Married 1st a daughter of Henry Tibbets.

1. son William (inherited land from his grandfather Henry Tibbets in the town of North Kingstown) (see genealogy of William Tanner of North Kingstown, R. I., and his descendants, published by Rev. George C. Tanner, D.D., Faribault, Minn., 1905).

Deborah was daughter of George Stillman of Westerly.

about 1000 m (3300 ft) and no such vegetation to such heights.
I have found no such tall grass as 1700' which there the grass was (as usual) 2000' after such grass (1930, 2000') in which there is no tall grass. This is the reason why I think that the grass is not tall because of the presence of grass amongst the trees. There is a lot of tall grass in the forest.

The names of the other children are not named, and no names or dates of birth are in the Town Records.

The names of the children of James Tanner of West Greenwich are obtained from other records, as follows below.

The following is found in the Town Records of West Greenwich: 19 April, 1784, William Tanner and Mary, widow, sell to Ebenezer Wilcox two elevenths of a tract of eighty acres. (This was the amount of land owned by James Tanner, lying along Wood river).

10 Aug., 1786, Zebulon Tanner of West Greenwich sells his right and title in eighty acres, bounded south by the land of the heirs of Nathaniel Tanner, south west on Wood River, north and northeast by the land of Thomas Stone &c.

18 Oct., 1791, Benjamin Tanner, county of Hampshire, Mass., Yeoman, sells to Paul Pircins of Exeter, land in West Greenwich, lot No. 2 "formerly belonging to my honored father, James Tanner," divided by a jury, by order of a superior court of judicature, &c. signed. Benjamin Tanner.

17 Jan., 1792, Elisha Tanner and wife Abigail of Randolph County of Orange, Vt., sell to Thomas Stone, eight acres, bounded west on Wood river, that Thomas Wilcox's grist mill stands on, south on land of Nathaniel Turner which belongs to his heirs, and land of Thomas Wilcox, &c. (Elisha Tanner was a drummer in Col. John Topham's Regiment, Rhode Island, "Spirit of '76".).

This gives us the names of the children of James Tanner at the time the court ordered the division of the land, with the exception of two, — James and Briston, and two elevenths not accounted for. But the writer is informed by a descendant of this branch of the family that Briston Tanner was killed in the battle of Brandywine; unmarried.

A Zophar Tanner appears among the Rhode Island Continental soldiers. But no record is found of his descendants, and the writer is inclined to the opinion that he was either an Indian or a colored servant belonging to one of the families, as it is known that there were such.

Of the seven sons of James Tanner of West Greenwich, six are known to have been Continental soldiers, whose record will appear later.

It appears, from the record above, that one portion, or two-elevenths of the estate remains unaccounted for, which may be the portion of James Tanner, who, with Job Tanner, appears in Dutchess County, N.Y., in 1775. In the census of West Greenwich, 1777, two persons appear of the name of James Tanner, who must be father and son, there being no others of that name.

It appears from the Town Records of West Greenwich, that a colony from Rhode Island settled in Dutchess County. In 1763, Edward Thorne of Dutchess County desires letters to the said county from West Greenwich, as was the custom in removing from one town to another. Charles and Francis Berry ask advice from the Select Men of West Greenwich regarding the care of a child, asking for help. In 1770 a Certificate is asked of the Council of West Greenwich, R.I., for the children of Daniel Case, which is refused, their sojourning in the Town of Dover, Province of New York.

James Tanner would therefore be considered as citizen of West Greenwich and enrolled accordingly until he had by certificate, or property, become a citizen of Dutchess County. William Tanner of Edeter had already emigrated to Rensselaer County, and Thomas Tanner of Rhode Island had settled in Litchfield County, Conn., which adjoined that part of New York. It is not unlikely therefore that James Tanner of Dutchess County was a son of James Tanner of West Greenwich.

This is confirmed by the fact that in 1786 Zebulon Tanner in West Greenwich and Samuel Potter of Bateman Precinct, Dutchess County, N.Y., request of the Town Council of West Greenwich support for a child.

Among the list of Tanners in the Revolution who served in Massachusetts Regiments, is the name of James Tanner, private, 8th Company, Col. John Bailey's Regiment, Continental Army, pay accounts for services from May 2 to May 11, 1777, reported deserted, aged 26 years, stature 5' 8"; enlistment 3 years — deserted May 11th, 1777 — reported a transient. Attention is called to the fact that nearly all of the Tanners reported as serving in the Continental army in Massachusetts are Rhode Island Tanners; that the "desertion" was about the time of the last sickness of James Tanner of West Greenwich.

While there are some difficulties in this theory, we offer it as a possible solution. Nearly every father named a son after his own name; and while the tombstone record of the age of the father seems to conflict with the age of the enlistment as also the marriage, yet there may be an error in the transcribing of dates.

and along the river will be a great loss and probably a great saving if nothing else. It may be general but there is no other method than to add a small amount of material to the water which will not interfere with the normal growth of fish.

It would be most useful for me to have a tank at the station with fish from different parts of the world for comparison, and would also be very useful for me to have a tank of living fish and to have them with tanks of water for test purposes.
I would be most interested in getting

Deborah (Stillman) Tanner, born in West Greenwich, R.I., married Watey Bly, of West Greenwich; he died in 1782. Inventory of goods, 20 May, 1782. Wife Wate makes her will 22 Dec 1782.

Children:

38. Anna

39. Elizabeth

40. Stillman, born 4 June 1776.

Elizabeth emigrated, with her sister Anna, to New York; never married, and died before 1845.

32. Amos (James, Benjamin, William), son of James (#7) and Mary (Wilcox) Tanner, born in West Greenwich, R.I. Married Mary —, two children, names not given.

It appears from Town Record of June 29, 1782, referring to the "late wife" of Amos Tanner, that Mary died in the first half of this year.

No further record appears, and the writer is unable to trace any descendants to Amos Tanner, or to say whether his line is extinct.

The name of Amos Tanner appears among the recruits in Windham Co., Conn., for a regiment for Bunker Hill, to serve from May 3 to Dec. 16, 1775. In the pay roll of 1776, due Amos Tanner, Second Corporal, Jan 26 to Sept., £1.3.5½.

He appears to have enlisted in his own State in 1776, Jan. 26.

Also "Record of Connecticut Men in the War of the Revolution," enlisted May 3, 1775, third company, discharged Dec. 16.

Among the Revolutionary Pensioners of Illinois appears one A. Tanner, aged 86, Morgan County, no residence further than one above given, and no friend named.

If the son of James Tanner of West Greenwich, this would make him the oldest, or next to the oldest, son.

In Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War, Vol. x v., p. 379, we find the name of Amos Tanner, Swanzey, among the list of men raised to serve in the Continental Army, as returned by Capt. Joseph Parker, residence, Swanzey, engaged for the town of Rochester, joined Col. Lee's regiment, terms three years—also, list of men mustered subsequent to March 17, 1778, by James Leonard, Muster Master for Plymouth County, dated April 7, 1778, Col. W<sup>m</sup> Lee's Regiment.

This is probably Amos Tanner of West Greenwich. This is rendered more likely from the fact that we find among the Tanners named William ~~from the fact that~~ of West Greenwich, R. I., engaged May 23, 1778, term three years, for Town of Rochester. (See full record, as above, vol xv "Massachusetts Soldiers & Sailors," etc).

Also, Nathan, enlistment date North Kingstown, R. I. Jan. 22, 1778, etc.

exciting bit being in PECO, the last and greatest of which was to find all game, especially small ones, had got written and located all over and also my traps, probably because most of them were small mammals and as being released for PECO there is no good hunting for real wild game though of course there were enough of them around the 4000 ft. traps that I could kill for meat and probably it will help a little but all my traps were broken in and

MARTIN of ERNESTTOWN.

Nov. 28, 1935.

1. EMAS or AMOS MARTIN, U. E., according to family tradition came from Vermont during the postrevolutionary period and settled in the Township of Ernesttown. He seems to have been too young to serve in the Loyalist forces, or, if he did so there is no record of such being the case. The first authentic record we have in Canada is one that appears in the appendix to the United Empire Loyalist List. This says that Emas Martin, his wife and three children were provisioned at Johnstown (just east of the present village of Prescott).

This man was therefore connected with the Revolution on the British side. It is believed that his wife, Susannah Ball, was the daughter of either Shadrack or Jacob or Solomon Ball, two soldiers of Col. Ebenezer Jessup's Loyal Americans, who settled in 1784 in Ernesttown. These two men apparently brothers, came from Brattleboro, Vermont, and early in 1777 joined the Loyalist Forces. At the same time there were several families of Martins in this area of Vermont. This coupled with the fact that Emas and his family settled in the same area, points to relationship between these two families. But his wife, Susannah was born in 1762, and was 21 in 1783, so it might have been that she was a sister of these two men. This relationship must be discovered in subsequent research.

The next record we have of Emas is his appointment to the office of Constable for Amherst Island at Kingston, Ontario on April 10, 1794. He had, therefore established residence there. It is also known that his daughter, Annie, was born there in 1797, the first white child born on Amherst Island. ~~but doubtful~~ There is another set of records that have to do with this period in the region of Amherst Island and Bath. They are those of the Masonic Order in Ontario. These records are taken from J. Ross Robertson's Freemasonry in Canada. They are:

Lodge No. 13, Ernesttown, 1804-22.

Petition presented 14 Sept., 1802 for a lodge at Ernesttown, and signed by Stephen Hix, Solomon Ball, Amos Martin.

A letter of March 14, 1803 stating that Amos Martin is Senior Warden and Stephen Hix, Junior Warden.

A List of Membership in 1804 shows the following charter members:

Stephen Hix, Junior Warden. In a letter of Mar. 14, Solomon Ball. 1806 he is Jr. Warden.

Amos Martin, Senior Warden.

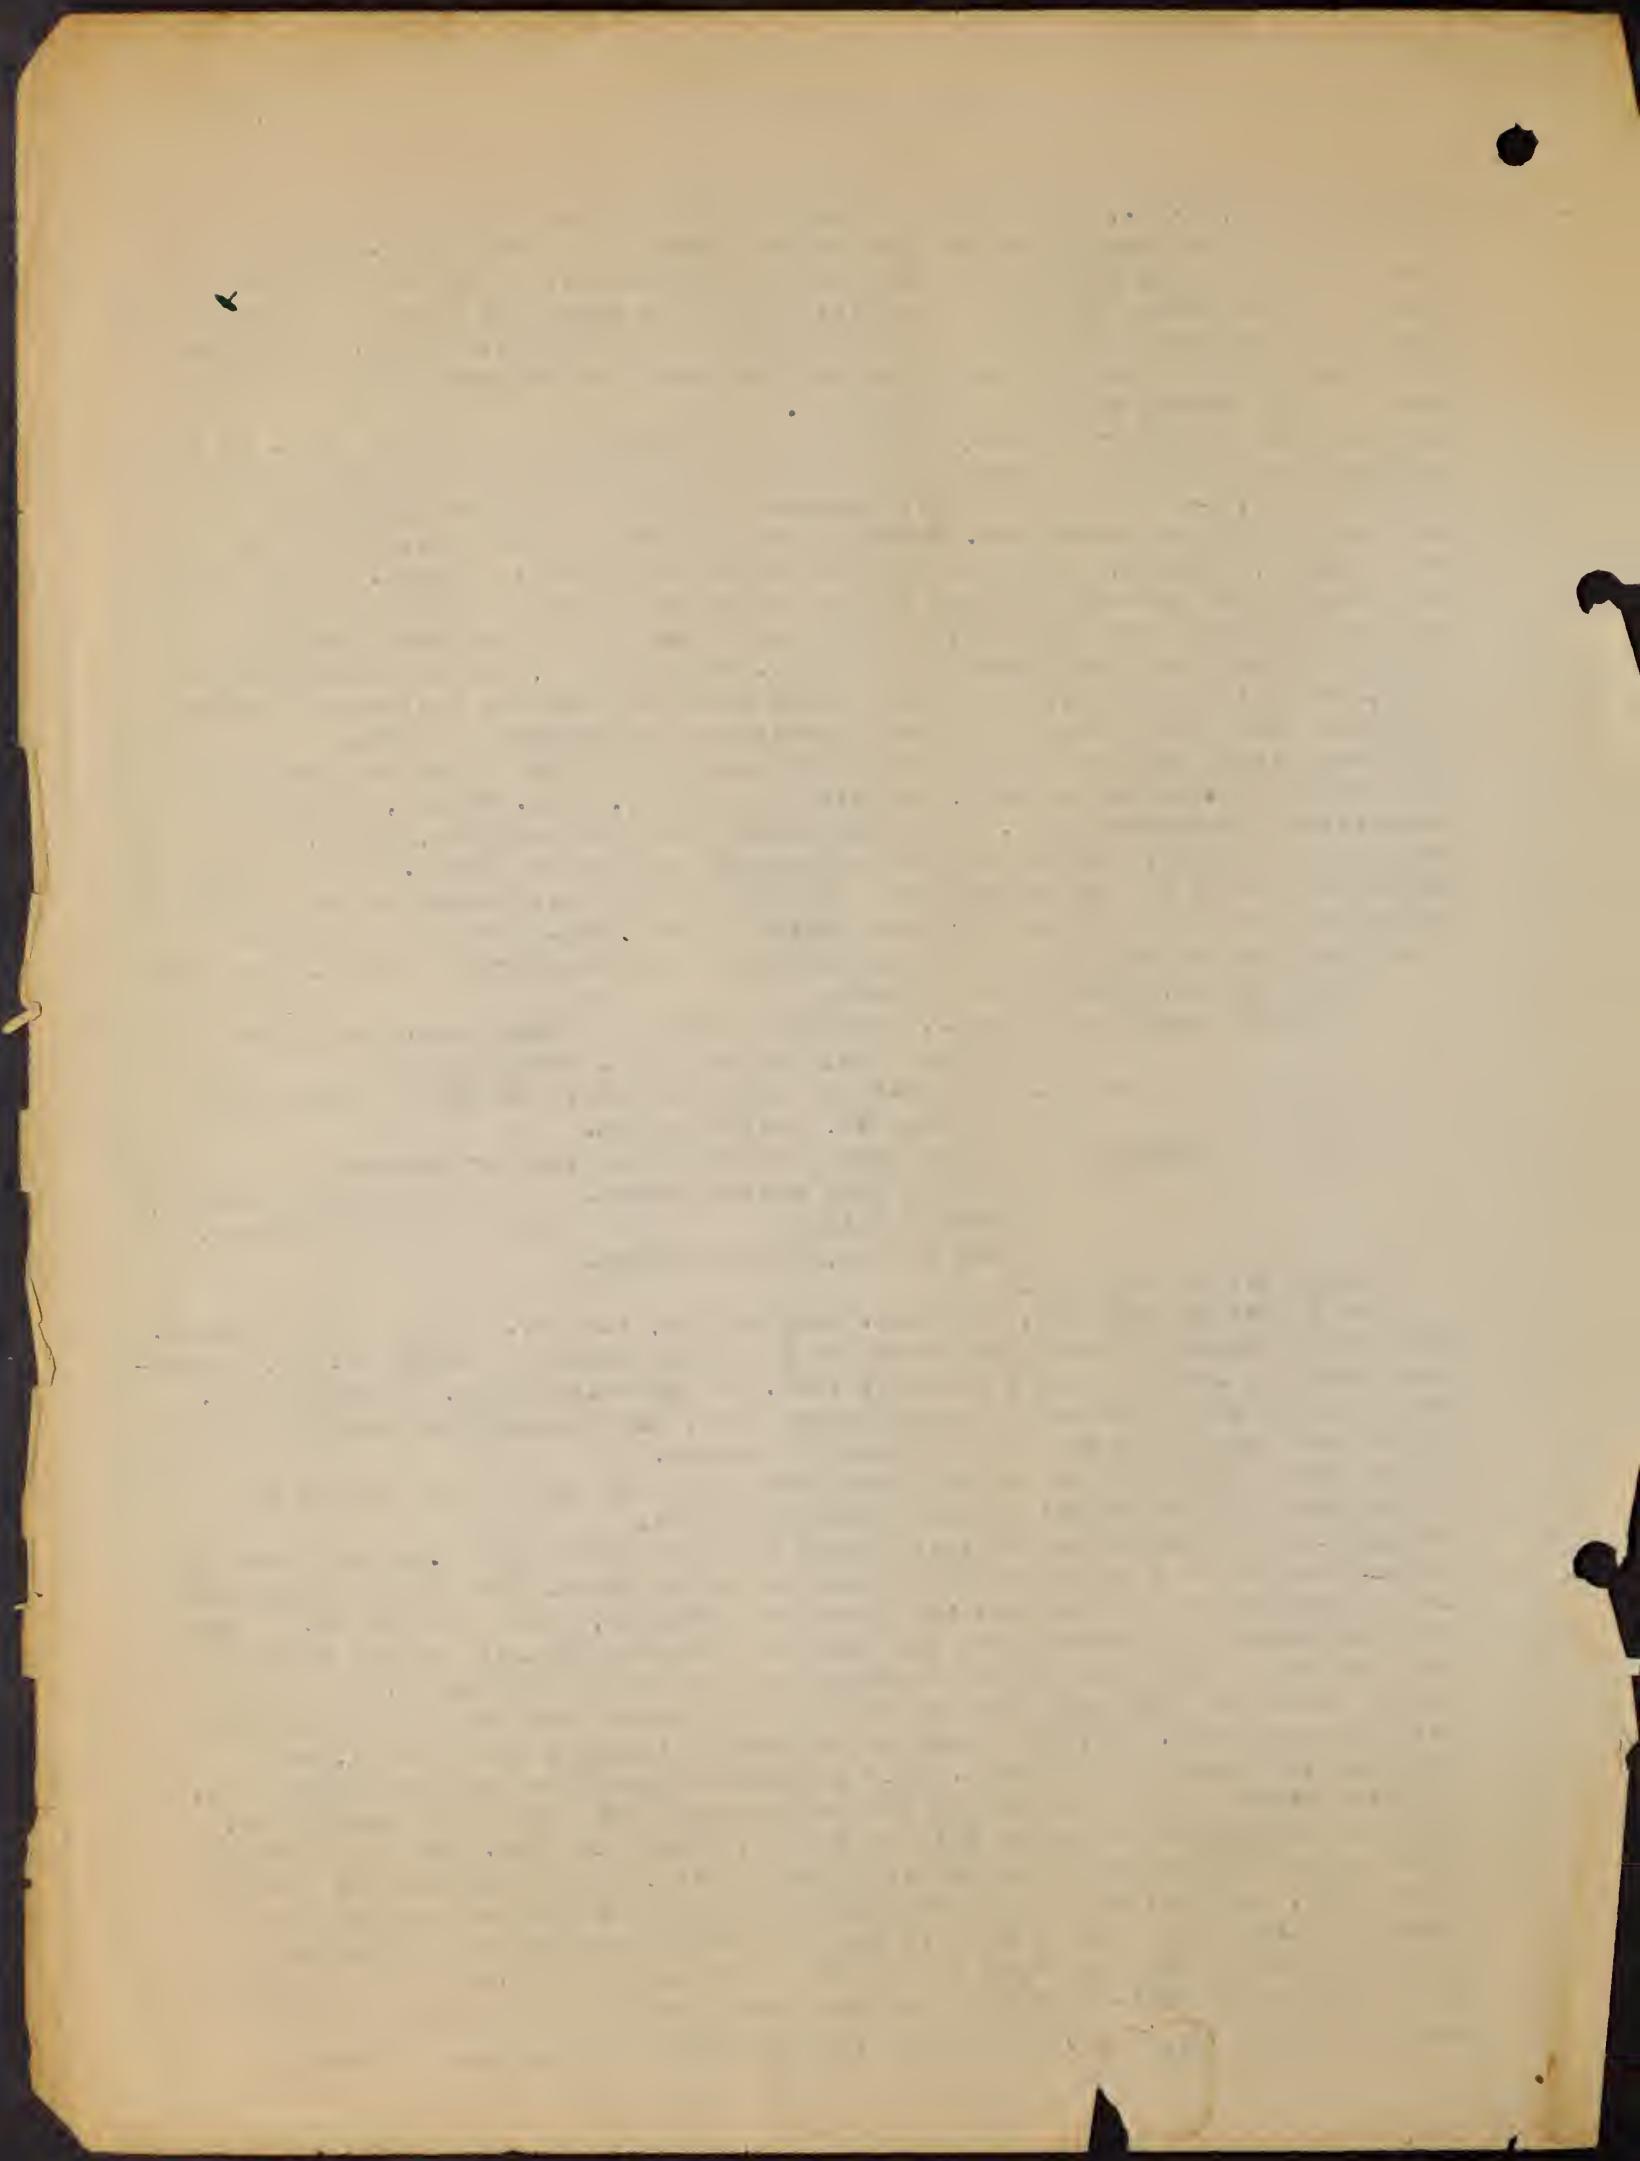

Lodge No. 6, Kingston.

At a Meeting June 1st, 1797 Bro. Amos Martin, visitor, of St. Johns present. From these records we note that Amos was a charter member of Lodge no. 13, Ernesttown from its inception in 1802 until 1806. He also visited St. Johns in 1797. Therefore he must have been a Mason before 1797, and possibly was made a mason in the American Colonies before he came to Canada.

We can safely say that he resided near Bath from 1794 until 1806. He was most likely residing on Amherst Island during this time.

Family tradition next has him living near Kingston Mills on a farm in Pittsburg Township near the junction of the middle and upper roads. This farm he soon sold to an Irish Martin and removed to Ernesttown Township, Cone. VI, lot 40. I have found no record of ownership of any land in this area by this man and conclude that the story is either false or mistold or that he had rented it.

Family tradition also says that he returned to Vermont and stayed so long that his wife remarried. In later years he returned bringing a son, Simeon, by a marriage contracted in Vermont. This separation must have occurred after 1806. <sup>+ Sep 1809</sup> We have record of the marriage in 1809 of Susannah Ball and Peter Asselstine, also the marriage of Susannah Ball to Hughson Walker in 1820. She was buried in 1844 in Wilton Cemetery by her son, William Martin, and is recorded as Susannah Asselstine, aged 82. One would conclude that it is doubtful that she married Hughson Walker, more than likely it was a niece who contracted this marriage. <sup>late of Mr. Solomon,</sup> The family says that some time after 1830 he returned from Vermont with Simeon. In the Winter of 1837-38 he with his son, Amos, returned to Vermont where he was greeted as "Mr. Tanner". On this trip he became ill and died in Vermont.

The Petition of Amos Martin of Lower Canada, now at the Township of ~~Ernest~~ Town in the Midland District.

Humbly sheweth that your petitioner came to this province and settled in year 1784. That in year 1792 he purchased Lot number 25 . . . . in township of Richmond of William Walker of Township of Ernest Town, a U. E. Loyalist who had drawn it as Lord Dorchester's bounty . . . (7) To His Excellency the Governor and Council your humble petitioner begs leave to give his reasons why he has not come forward to lay in his claim for this land before. After I purchased this land I went and took a slight look at the land and I thought it not good. The land at that time was in the wilderness, seven miles from inhabitants. I did not suppose it would be inhabited for many years. And I left my native place, Rhode Island State in the year 1778, came into Vermont and in 1784 came into the Upper Province and remained in this Province till 1807 I thought the time long that I never had heard from my friends nor they from me. I travelled to see them there. I was taken sick and continued sick and unwell for a long time. Then I returned into the town of Broom. There I remained till my son wrote to me concerning the land. Then I wrote this Power and sent to him, he being the first heir.

(9) July 19, 1819 Warrant issued.

I was tremendously pleased to see some of the excellent work you have done in collecting history of Martin connections, and hope next year to be privileged to examine your data at leisure.

Thanking you for your kindness.

Yours truly,

Harold E. Martin

P. S. Also pleased to learn that we are third cousins as I figure it.

Perhaps you might find time sometime to make out for me a genealogical tree from your greatgrandmother who was my greatgrandmother's sister, with names, dates and place of residence.
